Lois Dear

Only one more annual to go
Then we'll be graduates you know
We've been through the grind & the mill,
Looking back now it gives me a chill
To see the work that had to be done
But I don't care, we had our fun.
I'm glad that it's all over and glad as can be
Because I wouldn't do it over again

FOREWORD

JMHS

Focus your binoculars and peer into an age when gods and goddesses ruled the world. Gaze at the dazzling beauty of Aphrodite; listen to the wise words of Athena; go soaring with Hermes, swift messenger of the gods, through the palaces of Zeus and Hera, king and queen of gods; listen to the clashing rage of Ares, god of war; live again in a world of Titans.

GEORGE A. BEERS

Principal

TO Frank Quinn: Farewell! Eleven years we have lived and labored together at this John Marshall High School. Eleven years crowded with problems, intricate and complicated. Eleven years you have stood ready with calm keen counsel and substantial cooperation. I have come to love and admire you as a man. True, you have insisted upon defeating me in every golf game we played.

Never mind. As you leave Marshall it is my wish that your golf score get lower and lower, and that life among your children and grandchildren become richer and richer.

To the Pupils: My companions, this semester you have taken over the management of many enterprises. You have displayed keen judgment, accepted responsibility and carried projects through to a successful culmination.

You have maintained the high scholastic standards of the John Marshall High School and have responded with true Marshall spirit to the improved opportunities for serious study.

George A. Beers.

MOST generations in the past were born old. It is only the last two or three which have shown signs of perennial youth.

Sometime ago a man who was expecting soon to retire from his profession said to me, "I am looking forward to the things I shall be doing and not backward to the things I have done." A person with that outlook never grows old. Youth and age are divided at that point where one begins to live in the past.

I consider myself fortunate to have spent so much of my life with young people and I never want to feel myself out of sympathy with them. Some complain that the youth of today have not the sterling qualities of the youth of the past. This attitude is also indicative of advancing age. It is my opinion that the youth of today with their frank honesty, their fearless facing of the hardest age the world has faced in many generations, their spirit of skepticism in swallowing whatever their elders give them, and their desire to do their own thinking, presages a better world than we have thus far known.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSSAGE

By ROBERT GLICK

ROBERT GLICK

Throughout our high school career, we have been referred to as the youth of today, the leaders of tomorrow. We must, indeed, become leaders in many phases of life, and especially as pacifists, for we are the veterans and victims of future wars.

Few well founded causes have been assigned to wars in the past. Historians frequently point to general discontent as the cause of the outbreak of war and forget the more important, specific reasons. For instance, the last war was fought, supposedly, to make the world safe for democracy. Yet today there are dictatorships all over Europe and others are imminent. We come to the conclusion that there must have been more fundamental reasons for the war, such as the intent of aggressive countries to impress their power on other nations.

In studying history we find rulers have pitted the strength of their peoples against others in order to gain prestige, to be considered stronger rulers. This has been displayed generation after generation down to the present day.

There are business enterprises which exist more profitably when a war is in progress. There are many enterprises that are headed by unscrupulous men who hesitate at nothing to promote war in order to make their pockets bulge, and to drive bigger cars the ensuing year.

Thousands upon thousands have been killed to fill the pockets of these financiers; as many more have died slow, tortured deaths to increase the prestige of a few. This, leaders of tomorrow, is war.

Experience has taught us that after every great war a depression invariably occurs which doubles the amount of suffering. We are just emerging from such a depression with a fresh realization and understanding in our hearts of the far reaching effects of war.

Today the United States is facing the same dilemma that we so disastrously encountered in the previous world struggle. We, a part of this country, are passing through a recurring phenomenon and are faced with the seriousness of world unrest and dictatorial military preparedness. We, representing the youth of the world, must pledge ourselves to remedy this situation.

Foreign countries are competing in an armament race, dictators are inspiring their peoples with patriotism and intense nationalism, which upon the slightest provocation, will explode and cause revolts far more destructive than any ever before witnessed.

The youth of today is faced with the grave problem of halting oncoming disaster. We do not want to cause suffering or needless loss of life. Therefore, let us rise in protest against this black spot of all humanity.

SENIOR OFFICERS

FRANCES L. SAUNDERS
Ryerson — Illinois

Curly hair and ever smiling face attract the eye;
An agreeable good nature stimulates the soul;
To become an efficient teacher—the end of Frances's goal.

Activities: Review, girls' sports editor; life guard; special games; office assistant; water polo; Review, panels; honor roll; Student Council.

ROBERT GLICK
Bryant — Illinois

Indeed a true choice! Staunch in ideals—impartial and equitable in controversial questions — courageous in thought. His escutcheon reads boldly: "Right makes Might."

Activities: German club, president; Red Cross; emergency squad, captain; basketball; intra-mural baseball; dramatics.

LUCILE LEVEN
Bryant

A roll of those lucky stones and pop! comes "'Leven," our congenial, jovial and hard working "sec," ready, willing, and able, one of Marshall's favorite daughters.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Marshall has been very fortunate this semester, being able to award three scholarships and a loan fund scholarship to its deserving graduating seniors.

This semester Mrs. Maurice Goldblatt, a former graduate of Marshall, donated a $150.00 scholarship, in honor of her aunt, Mrs. Mamie Zemon. The money may be used at any university in the country.

The recipient of this award is Herman Davis.

The World War Service Scholarship of $100.00, that may be used at any university was awarded this year to Sylvia Silverstein.

The Louise Roth scholarship of $100.00 was won, this year, by Judith Goldwasser. This scholarship was established by the family and friends of Miss Roth after her death. Miss Roth was a former teacher at Marshall. The recipient of this award must attend the University of Chicago.

The Marshall Loan fund awarded a scholarship of $100.00 this semester, in honor of Grace Bartelme, late dean of girls, and Max Batt, late journalism adviser at Marshall High School. This award was given to Nicholas Mastores, with Irwin Block and Fannie Wizner as alternates.

The recipients of loan fund awards are allowed five years to pay back the loan without any interest. After the five year period has elapsed a small interest rate is charged.

The Marshall Loan Fund is now supported by the students of Marshall High School. Nearly every semester the graduating class contributes to the fund. One week a year is set aside and students are asked to give a penny a day, during this week to the fund.

Money is also raised by annual Bow and Rose days. Bow Day is held in October and huge colored crepe paper bows are made by and sold to the students. One of the most enjoyable events of the year is Rose Day, held in May. Beautiful roses are sold to the students at five cents per rose. The proceeds from these colorful and enjoyable days are donated to the Marshall Loan Fund.

ALUMNI

With the laying of the cornerstone of Marshall, it was determined that there be a John Marshall Alumni Association.

In 1913, Mr. George Cassell formulated a plan for the establishment of such an association. Each semester between seven hundred and eight hundred former Marshall students attend a home-coming dinner and dance in Marshall High School.

This year the dinner was held on May 21 in honor of Frank Quinn, the school engineer, who was retiring after forty years of service.

The officers of the organization are responsible for the proper functioning of Alumni affairs. They are:

Incoming 1937-38		Outgoing 1937-38
George F. Cassell	President	Samuel H. Nerlove	President
Helen Glassman Weiss	Vice-President	Amy Roettig Hyde	Vice-President

HENRY ABRAHAM
Morse — Wright

Test tubes—exact work—great discoveries—Eureka! Henry's interest in experimenting and his keen ambition will carry him to the front ranks of superior physicians.

Activities: Intra-mural basketball; intra-mural baseball, captain.

IRVING S. ACKERMAN
Sumner — Northwestern

Perhaps it is to his altruism that Irving owes his ability to adjust himself to the leadership of others.

Activities: Spanish club, president; band; R. O. T. C.; C. I. C.; Usher club; junior fire marshal.

FLORENCE ALBERTS
Delano — Northwestern

Where there's a quill, there's a way; and "Jimmy" has the will to use the quill in the "write" way.

Activities: Drama; special games; Glee club; Spanish club; office assistant; Braille assistant.

ELI ALING
Delano

An athlete of renown,
A person on whom to rely;
This handsome man-about-town—
May we present Eli?

Activities: Swimming; emergency squad; German club; fire guard; Law club; intra-mural baseball; intra-mural basketball.

NORMAN F. ALIOTTA
St. Mels

"I admire men, not because they are men, but because they are not women." We'll add "Snoopy" to the list of bachelors.

Activities: Basketball; baseball; football.

FANNIE P. ALTERMAN
Manley — California

Good-natured Fannie entertains thoughts of becoming a second Sonja Henie, but watch her skate into a secretarial position.

Activities: Office assistant; volleyball, captain; captain ball, captain.

MARY H. ARCARO
Gregory — Moser

"Archy", our personality plus girl, has a sense of humor and a happy disposition which should enable her to attain whatever position she desires.

Activities: H. H. S.; S. T. C.; Typing award.

BEVERLY L. ASHER
Sumner — Moser

"Bev" lives in a bevy of dramatics. Willingness to help others has ever been one of her most notable qualities.

Activities: S. T. C.; Spanish club; special games; swimming.

SYLVIA ABRAHAMSON
Austin — Art Institute

Sylvia may be quiet, but her talent will win her recognition as a commercial artist.

Activities: Art club; swimming; G. A. A.; French club; mural.

BERNARD M. AGREST
Sumner — Texas

Someday the dancers in the land
Will sway with Bernie and his band;
Smiling, friendly, with never a care,
We'll hear him often on the air.

Activities: Concert band; Astronomy club; intra-mural baseball; intra-mural basketball.

LA VERNE ALBRECHT
Cameron

Winters of secretarial work and watching six day bike races, with summers of travel, will take up "Punk's" time.

Activities: Swimming; office assistant; Choral club; German club.

TANA J. ALIOTO
Waller — Illinois Business College

A turn of the dial will bring to millions of listeners, the melodious voice of Tana Alioto, the blues-singer supreme.

Activities: Honor roll; typing award.

ROBERT J. ALISAUSKAS
Presentation

If perseverance means anything Bob will never lose out on anything he sets his heart on.

Activities: Baseball.

SYLVIA ANDELMAN
Marshall — Lewis Institute

With a bright smile, and a happy-go-lucky disposition,
"Sibbi" will be her own best advertisement of her ability as a dietician.

Activities: Red Cross; special games; C. I. C.; captain ball tournament; volleyball tournament; swimming; Braille assistant; Glee club; honor roll.

LUCILLE Z. ARIES
Delano — Chicago

Common sense gave her a seven-star honor pin. Unselfishness gained her countless friends. Her quiet personality will merit well-earned success.

Activities: Life guard; French club; Choral club; honor roll.

SALVATORE V. BADALAMENTI
Manley — Notre Dame

Here's to our athletic Solly,
Always laughing, always jolly,
As a C. P. A. he'll take his stand
Among the best in all the land.

Activities: Intra-mural basketball; R. O. T. C.; swimming.

LESTER BAKER
Delano — Chicago

A rare accomplishment—a graduate at fifteen with an interesting future as a psycho-analyst.

Activities: Varsity basketball; intra-mural basketball, captain; Latin club, fencing; "M" winner; honor roll; Choral club; typing award.

HARRY BARINHOLTZ
Mason — Oxford

For he's a jolly good fellow,
A "little good-looking" to boot.
Always a bright, cherry "Hello,"
And good-natured, down to the foot.

Activities: Intra-mural baseball; intra-mural basketball; Latin club; locker guard.

SHIRLEY F. BASKIN
Delano — Chicago

She will "Shirley" accomplish fine things—she longs to be "Baskin" on foreign shores, getting local color for her history classes.

Activities: Orchestra; J. Y. L.; Red Cross; German club; honor roll; Braille assistant.

DOROTHY A. BECKER
Bryant — Chicago

"Dot" fairly puts you in a coma. Her black hair, blue eyes and sincere smile cause exclamations! There's no question about her talents—that goes ditto.

Activities: Basketball, captain; volley-ball, captain; special games; student council; honor roll; typing award; Botany club; dance committee.

MILDRED BEILLEN
Delano — Northwestern

Mildred has all it takes, good looks, friendliness and good nature, the only thing left is a "Steno" position, which should be easy for her to find.

Activities: Spanish club; swimming; Choral club; Glee club.

HAROLD H. BENOWITZ
Herzl — Northwestern

His great enthusiasm is for lawyers, and there can be no grounds for objection when "Hal" triumphantly emerges as a criminal lawyer.

Activities: Band; swimming; intra-mural baseball.

ROSE BERNARDS
Delano — Northwestern

A born leader . . . A genuine technique in persuading people should aid her in anything she undertakes.

Activities: Public speaking; Drama club; Le Club Francais; honor roll; section editor; winner of poetry reading contest; office girl.

SYLVIA BERNSTEIN
Ryerson
American Academy of Fine Arts

Sylvia is destined to gain fame, for her dancing feet are sure to dance her right to the top.

Activities: Dramatics; Glee club; special games; C. I. C.; volleyball, captain; dancing.

ERNEST C. BANG
Prentice, Wisconsin — Illinois

Because he's earnest, this Bang will earn plenty of money as a mechanical engineer.

Activities: Football; track.

CAROLINE H. BARSKY
Tuley — Bryant & Stratton

A dependable person and a deluxe model, always good company, a friendly and sociable companion; efficient is the word for Caroline.

Activities: Special games.

CLARA BECKER
Steinmetz — Chicago

Forecast for this cheerful miss:—continued quiet with favorable winds blowing toward a stenographic position, no clouds, "Clare" sailing.

Activities: News typist; Red Cross club; typing award; J. Y. L.; G. A. A.

EDWARD BECKER
Beidler — Loyola

When "Bud" becomes a G-man, complex crime mysteries will be solved with the greatest of ease.

Activities: Intra-mural baseball; football; swimming; fire guard; civic guard; German club.

MARIE BENDSEN
Manley — Manchester

Perhaps Marie of the big blue eyes sees farther than most people. As a kindergarten teacher, she will be competent and assured—herself.

Activities: Orchestra; Spanish club; captain ball tournament.

GENEVIEVE BERKOWITZ
Lowell — Chicago

True musicians are born, not made, so Gene's choice of a career as a teacher of harmony and piano is a natural.

Activities: Symphony orchestra; section deputy; typing award; honor roll; student council; national contest.

NORTON BERNSTEIN
Delano — Illinois

The impassioned pleas of this distinguished lawyer will reveal to the world new phases of human character.

Activities: Intra-mural baseball; intra-mural basketball; swimming; typing award; fencing; C. I. C.; honor roll.

TILLIE BERNSTEIN
Delano — Illinois

This spritely lass,
Who is light on her toes,
Dances into all hearts,
Wherever she goes.

Activities: Glee club; S. T. C.; volley-ball; Braille assistant; section editor; Spanish club.

WILLIAM BERO
Our Lady of Sorrows — Wright

"Will" has left a trail of athletic fame in his wake, but alas to athletics, for railroading is to be his next venture.

Activities: Basketball; baseball.

IRWIN D. BLOCH
Delano — Chicago

"Tall, dark, and handsome"; broad-shouldered, clean-cut, level headed and practical, and with that "come-hither" look in his eyes.

Activities: German club, president; football; intra-mural baseball; intra-mural basketball; C. I. C.; student council; honor roll; section editor; dramatics; Law club, president.

SAMUEL BLUESTEIN
Crane — S. California

Sam has set an unsurpassed example for staff men and hall guard captains to follow. His contributions to Marshall's activities will not be forgotten.

Activities: News, assistant advertising manager; Review, business manager; hall guard squad, captain; student court, bailiff; dance committee; fire marshal; office assistant; emergency squad, captain.

SEYMOUR S. BLUMENTHAL
Gregory — Illinois

If Seymour can manage his teams as well as he's able to manage his friends, he'll be one of the best coaches in the country.

Activities: Glee club; German club; intra-mural basketball; intra-mural baseball; J. Y. L.; fire guard.

HAROLD BOHRER
Manley — Northwestern

We found one Bohrer so satisfactory that we demanded an encore.

Activities: Intra-mural basketball; senior day committee.

EDYTHE BORTZ
Delano

Goodman School of Dramatic Art
Helen Hayes will need to look to her laurels when our charming Edythe sets outs on her chosen career.

Activities: Dramatics; senior play; Braille assistant; swimming; senior day committee; C. I. C.

CHARLOTTE BRAUDE
Manley — Moser

Executive of a firm
The position "Babe" will earn.
Red hair, and eyes of blue,
Her geniality captures you.

Activities: French club; volleyball; captainball tournament; office assistant; typing award; Glee club; swimming; C. I. C.

RAVELI R. BRODSKY
Boody Jr. High, N. Y. — New York

Raveli comes from old N'Yawk,
She's going back if she has to walk.
She likes to write, and we don't jest;
We say her writing is of the best.

Activities: News, literary; News editor; M. J. L.; N. S. P. A.

FANNIE BIX
Tilden, New York — Chicago

Fannie likes to care for those in distress. This trait she will carry into action when she has received her doctor's degree.

Activities; Red Cross club, secretary; Glee club; swimming; games class; G. A. A.

SHIRLEY BLONSKY
Brown — Moser

Sunshine, smiles, and laughing eyes,
One dimple the cause of wondering sighs,
A charming girl—"Shirl."

Activities: Volleyball; typing award.

SIDNEY BLUMBERG
Manley — Northwestern

Royal personality—
Monarch of swing—
Crowned with golden wavy hair—
Blue eyed—"Sid King!"

Activities: Concert band; intra-mural basketball; honor roll; Band club; music "M" winner.

SEYMOUR BOGDENOFF
Sumner — Herzl

"Bogy" has been known as a checker fiend. We shan't be surprised to hear of his being crowned king of agricultural engineers.

Activities: Choral club; honor roll.

IRA M. BOHRER
Herzl — Northwestern

"Twinny's" wisdom is expressed in his own phrase: "A man is as wise as his words."

Activities: Intra-mural baseball; track; senior day program; baseball.

ROSE BOWSER
Central — Bryant & Stratton

"Pat" won't let all work and no play make her a dull secretary, for she will spend her spare time in athletic games.

Activities: Captainball, captain; honor roll; baseball; dancing.

ELEANORE BRODSKY
Herzl — Moser

She has many friends, all good ones—attractive ways, staunch, true ones—very peppy, always on the go—Eleanore, whom it's an honor to know.

Activities: Section editor; volleyball, captain; section deputy; C. I. C.

IRVING B. BRUSH
Lafayette — Illinois

A physician and surgeon Mr. Brush wants to be, a dashing M. D., ambitious and witty.

Activities: Honor roll; Latin club; basketball; intra-mural baseball.

HOWARD W. BUCK
Abbott — S. California

G-man Buck will "bring 'em back alive." His almost perfect attendance is something to brag about.

Activities: Fire guard; swimming; emergency squad; football; intra-mural basketball; office assistant.

BERNICE BUDOW
Sumner — Northwestern

Dark, sparkling eyes—black, wavy hair—an invigorating smile—a contagious laugh—a jovial nature—Bernice.

Activities: Dramatics; life guard; Spanish club; volleyball, captain; swimming.

PAUL BURNSTEIN
Manley — Northwestern

A coming baseball hurler,
We wish "Red Jr." luck;
For he's an accomplished twirler,
With a super-abundance of pluck.

Activities: Intra-mural basketball; intra-mural baseball.

ANNE E. CESARIO
Cameron — Bryant & Stratton

Anne's strength and precision in hitting the ball will stand her in good stead for she will use those same qualities in anything she undertakes.

Activities: Special games; volleyball, captain; captainball, captain; C. I. C.; office assistant.

SHIRLEY CHANEY
Herzl

Dexterity in typing may be acquired by careful work and zealous effort. Shirley's nimble fingers will bring her promotion and prosperity.

Activities: Typing award; Glee club.

GEORGE CHULIN
Senn — Michigan

If our judgment of the world is a mirror of our own character, then surely Marshall sees in George, integrity and high standards.

Activities: Hi-Y; swimming; Glee club.

JEANETTE G. COHEN
Manley — Drapbozen School of Art

Jeanette refuses to tell the secret of her ambition, but she admits to a desire to become a dress designer—and who could be a better one than she!

Activities: C. I. C.; swimming; Glee club.

MARVIN M. COHEN

Being natural is important to a girl, especially when she has a flashing smile and hopes to be a secretary.

Activities: Honor roll; Los Amigos de Espanan.

BERNICE WESTBERG
Morse — Bryant & Stratton

Some office is going to profit by the ability of blue-eyed Bernice, but not for long, if the boss is handsome.

Activities: Captainball; swimming.

FRANZ E. WIESENFELD
Munich, Germany — S. California

Our handsome Franz, with his taking German accent, hopes to be a second Max Reinhardt.

Activities: "The Weavers"; German club; cheer-leader; J. Y. L.; section editor; honor roll; typing award; C. I. C.

LA VERNE D. WILKINSON
Grant — Normal

When "Lovey" becomes the teacher that she hopes to be, her pupils will find going to school a pleasure.

Activities: El Circulo Castellano; Red Cross; section deputy; typing award; honor roll.

WILLIAM S. WINN
Mason — S. California

"Willie" Winn will win a name when he will win a court claim. But seriously, "Willie" will settle appropriations, alienations, and arbitrations masterfully.

Activities: Intra-mural baseball; intra-mural basketball; swimming.

FANNIE F. WIZNER
Bryant — Chicago

As a scholar, she'll be a sensation,
Fit type to teach the youth of the nation.

Activities: Glee club; German club; honor roll; student council; C. I. C.; J. Y. L.; cap and gown committee.

GERTRUDE A. WOLF
Herzl — Northwestern

In the role of a social worker, "Gertie" will do her bit to help keep the "Wolf" away from the doors of her fellow men.

Activities: Dramatics; C. I. C.; special corridor guard; Spanish club; volleyball.

DOROTHY WOLFRAM
Morse

Dorothy's favorite expression, "That's right," is proof of her agreeable nature. Her warm heart would probably melt the ice she skated on.

Activities: Office assistant; swimming.

PEREZ ZAGORIN
Gregory — Chicago

His name is synonymous with organization—a persuasive orator with a philosophic trend—persistency and perseverance are his outstanding qualities.

Activities: Washington oratorical contest; Latin club; J. Y. L.; intra-mural baseball.

HELEN ZAMOST
Bryant — Northwestern

Witty and charming, a smile that's disarming, always delightfully gay. A favorite among funsters, dancers and punsters, "Hezzie" will brighten your day.

Activities: Choral club; C. I. C.; section deputy; dance committee.

HENRIETTA M. ZARUBA
Cameron

We like Henrietta because: (1) she has a dandy sense of humor; (2) she's generous; (3) she's friendly and sincere. All summed up she's swell.

Activities: Choral club; German club; S. T. C.; special games; swimming; honor roll; C. I. C.

THELMA R. ZUKERMAN
Herzl — Northwestern

Foggy London—Gay Paree—Red Russia—and the exciting life of a foreign correspondent is "Chubby's" future.

Activities: Typing award; fire guard; G. A. A.; office assistant; Glee club.

LILYAN WISHNOFF
Emmett

A "Lil" girl with a lot of geniality. The peak of politeness and courtesy—Lilyan.

Activities: Choral club.

EDWARD F. WODKA
St. Francis — Northwestern

"Woody" ought to find it easy to lick the obstacles in his path to eminence from the experience he has had in licking stamps for his collection.

Activities: Intra-mural baseball; intra-mural basketball.

MARY WOLF
Manley — Illinois

If merry Mary marries, it will have to be the boss's son, and why not? It's been done before.

Activities: Spanish club; Glee club; volleyball; typing award; swimming.

AGNES T. WOOLER
Ryerson

Sea-green eyes, exceedingly neat,
A charming girl, hard to beat;
Agnes, athletically inclined—
Friendly, honest, withal refined.

Activities: Typing award; captainball.

ELEANOR ZAHRNDT
Ommaus — Chicago

"El" desires to become a nurse. It would indeed be a loss to ailing humanity if her cheerfulness was denied it.

Activities: Office assistant; Glee club.

MARY C. ZARILLO
Foreman — Moser

Tunes on typewriters tell a tale of merry "Mar's" musical mastery.

Activities: Typing award; Glee club.

IRVING ZOLOTAREFF
Manley — Illinois

"Salad's" knowledge of chemistry will come in handy in working out a formula for making a million dollars.

Activities: Spanish club; intra-mural baseball; intra-mural basketball.

JOSEF P. ZVEROW
Tuley — Curtis

"Pidge" says, beside the fine arts, there's the art of punning. Nevertheless it's a successful musician he'll be.

Activities: Band; orchestra; flute solo contest.

JOHN S. FISHER
Lane

Johney's Irish temper is modified by the more placid side of his nature. In his quiet way he gathers a host of friends.

DOROTHY CIMINO
Morse Bryant & Stratton

Dorothy's quiet charm will gain for her the position she seeks as a filing clerk.

Activities: Swimming.

GRADUATES WITHOUT PICTURES

MARTIN R. BERGER
Manley S. California

"Red" is riding high, wide and handsome. He's set upon becoming chief executive of the country. Well, who knows!

Activities: Honor roll; intra-mural baseball; intra-mural basketball.

ALBERT B. GRAMAROSA
Ryerson Bradley

A mountain of bulging muscles, "Barto's" renowned accomplishments on the gridiron are only a forecast of what's to come when he enters college.

Activities: Football.

THOMAS J. KING
Foreman Northwestern

Skillfully using his tools under the banner of diligence and honesty, "Tommy" will ascend the royal road of industry.

Activities: Intra-mural basketball.

WILLIAM LADASKY
Manley Purdue

Ladasky has the key to ultimate fame as a violinist. We hope to hear more of William.

LOUIS MINCER
Lake View Chicago

In all his dealings, Louis will unquestionably be shown the same fine consideration he accords others.

ROBERT NELSON
Coal City Township High

The slender height of our handsome "Bob" makes it easy for him to surpass his nearest rival in basketball or swimming.

JOHN P. QUINN
Our Lady of Angels Notre Dame

John plays, dreams and talks football. He'll make his touchdown when he attains prominence in the role of a G-man.

Activities: Football; intra-mural baseball; intra-mural basketball; "M" winner.

RUSSELL PARKER
Nobel

Russell relishes peace and will do whatever he undertakes well, but modestly; for he shuns the limelight.

Activities: Baseball; swimming.

SIDNEY SILVER
Harvard

Since the profession of air conditioning and refrigeration is in its infancy, one who follows it has a big chance for success. Good luck—"Sid!"

Activities: Football; track.

REMINISCENCE

By SUE MARKS

"While memory holds a seat in this distracted globe! Remember thee!"—Shakespeare.

Hear ye all ye gods and goddesses! Doff your glittering crowns! Come down to earth! Search your thoughts for the exciting events in the four stages of your high school life. Relax, "reminisce", ramble!

As struggling freshmen, accompanied by algebra problems, headaches and anacin, the prospect of becoming sophisticated sophomores was ample pacifier for us, the whimpering.

SUE MARKS

When at last we emerged as carefree "sophs", to cut the first turf, our heavy basketball team placed as west section champs. With the Orioles running up as second in the section, Marshall's crack athletic squads put us up in front. Going from better to best, we were thrilled by the brilliant performance of ROSSUM'S UNIVERSAL ROBOTS,—Relevant, Unusual, Refulgent!

"The first two years were the hardest," did I hear someone say? Juniors—upper classmen—A sections! Still beardless boys! First signs of mascara! Supersaturated with an enthusiastic spirit, we submitted applications as ace journalists for NEWS and REVIEW. Success! Cubs! The vocal elite broke forth in song with an operetta, BLOW ME DOWN, presented by the Boy's Glee Club, and an entrancing performance, A ROMANCE OF CASHMERE, enacted by the Girl's Glee Club, accompanied by Marshall's Symphony Orchestra. To contrast the gaiety of FIESTIVE days, we heard with sadness of the death of Superintendent Bogan. As the new head of the schools, Dr. Johnson remodeled various phases of the educational processes. Something new—something different! The NEWS-REVIEW offer for seventy-five cents and the NEWS AMATEUR SHOW.

Seniors—another jewel in our royal caps! Colorful, gay, the presentation of MARTHA! The musical department stepped out, the woodwind quintet supreme throughout the city! Hypnotized audiences were under the spell of the WEAVERS, an eighteenth century play, offered by Marshall's dramatic group.

Campaign signs and speeches! Early elections for our senior class! "Order! Order!" Student Court was enthusiastically received and supported by both the student body and the faculty. Reorganized for the first time in fifteen years, many trials were successfully conducted. Clubs, popular several years ago, were revived. The student body cast its vote for these extra-curricular activities.

In the money-raising plan to send its members to the Columbus competition, the Orchestra sponsored Charm Day—black and white Scotties—lucky elephants. Another portion of their program included the sale of Mr. Isaac's composition, MARSHALL MARCH. Still another effort; Mr. Ruzicka demonstrated his powers over the violin, rendering THE BEE. Senior play, DEATH TAKES A HOLIDAY! A cure for all illness, The Boy's Glee Club presented O DOCTOR. "The dice of Zeus fall ever luckily" on this record breaking year. To add an exuberant touch, the Treble Clef Choir presented the operetta, WILD ROSE.

No shows for three months—the gods save their money to take the goddesses a-proming! White ties—tails—gardenias! Crescendo! Graduation night! Speeches, flowers and diplomas!

"Not lost, but gone before"—the joyous hours and happy memories of our Marshall High School Days.

"Thou wert my guide, philosopher, and friend.

Pope

"The very flower of youth."

—Terence

WATCH THAT DEADLINE!

Picture magazines have become very popular in the past few years, and in truth that is what the REVIEW is, a picture magazine in which the students are the characters and the school the setting.

Preparation for the REVIEW is begun very early in the semester. A theme must be decided upon, contests begun, senior questionnaires filled in, and the dummy planned; all of the detail work which goes into the publishing of a semi-annual must be carefully thought out.

"In union there is strength," and so it is with the REVIEW. Under the guidance of Miss Marian D. Lord, the staff unites for the sole purpose of editing a semi-annual at the lowest possible cost and of the best possible quality.

REVIEW BUSINESS STAFF

FEES FOR HARD COVERS AND NAMES DUE TODAY!

The financial success of the REVIEW is due entirely to its business staff. The staff is responsible for instituting campaigns, soliciting subscriptions for hard covers, names, and all advertising. Early in the semester the staff gets to work and figures out a workable budget. Then the task of collecting, recording, and depositing money is the object of their work. After all has been taken care of, the last, but by no means the least, of their job is to see to it that the REVIEW is delivered to each of its two thousand subscribers.

MARIAN D. LORD
Journalism Adviser

In appreciation of past semesters under able direction, guidance, and invigorating influence, we of the REVIEW staff profer a toast to

As former adviser of the REVIEW, Mrs. Rueben, in her three semesters of leadership, brought to it honors never before attained and set a high goal towards which we shall ever strive.

COPY BOY!

Tuesday has been established, traditionally, as "Marshall News day" . . . the day when all news of events and gossip that concerns the school and school activities is put into print. This semester the News staff, always with their noses to the ground hunting for news and new trends, published three supplements, entitled the PORTFOLIO. The PORTFOLIO, a literary magazine, was under the direction of the literary staff.

The News staff consists largely of seasoned reporters and "cubs" who are assigned different "beats" or activities to cover. It is in this way that the News is capable of getting "all the news that's fit to print." Behind the publishing of the News are alert editorial, business, and advertisng staffs, that co-operate for the purpose of producing each week that excellent paper . . . THE MARSHALL NEWS.

$.25 $.50 $.75 $1.00 PAID IN FULL!

"A great job well done" is invariably the compliment paid to the student business staff of tho Marshall News. These students are in charge of the initial part of the campaign for Marshall Publications. They are in charge of all subscription money up to one dollar. Money is collected every week and a complete check on all sections and individual subscribers is made at the same time. In addition to collecting money for subscriptions, the business staff takes care of all money and bills for the Marshall News. Every Tuesday will find this capable staff distributing newspapers to section editors. This organization is indeed a credit to Marshall High School.

SECTION EDITORS

PAPERS FOR 254A, PLEASE!

A novel system of circulation management, in conjunction with "Section Editors" is, in a large measure, responsible for the success of the Marshall Publications.

Section editors, together with the business staffs, see to it that each one of the two thousand student subscribers receive their newspapers and REVIEW. They also help to solve difficulties arising in their own section.

One person from each section is elected to the position of Section Editor. He is selected for his ability, trustworthiness, and willingness to work. Section editors give generously of their time and, indeed, their indispensability is recognized and keenly appreciated by the Marshall Publications.

DRAMA CLUB

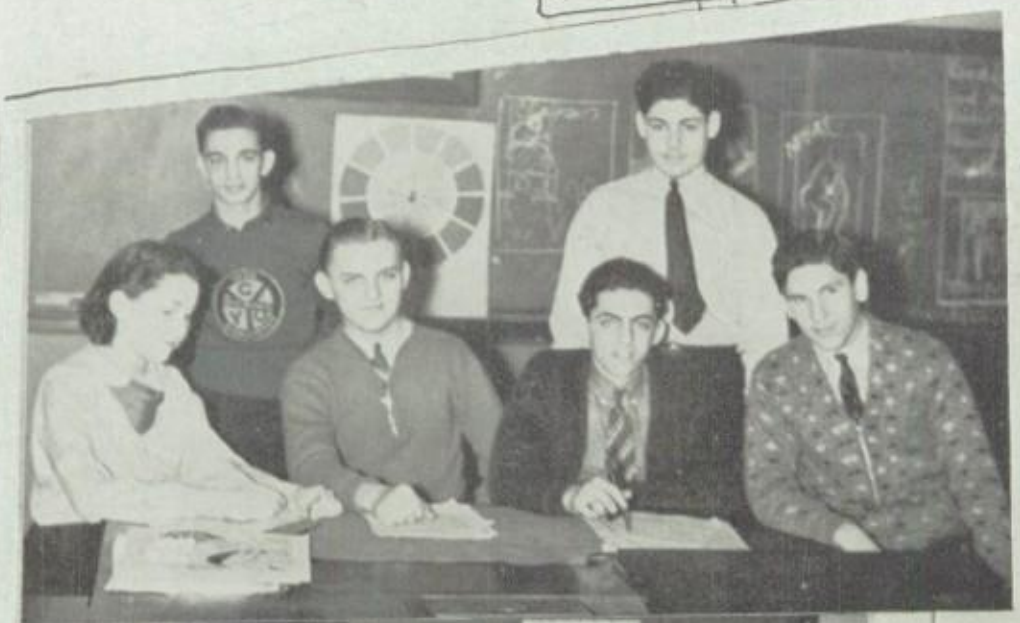
WATCH YOUR CUES!

It has always been the policy of the DRAMA CLUB to present plays of value and interest to both the actors and the audience. All actors are put on an equal basis, the motto of the club being, "No stars, no feature players."

Under the able leadership of Miss Mary Amtman, pupils are coached in the principles of good acting and stage technique.

Following its policy of giving everyone a chance, by using three separate casts, the club presented "DEATH TAKES A HOLIDAY," by Alberto Casella.

Art Club



SHADE THAT A BIT MORE!

All of the posters, which so ably call the school activities to the attention of Marshallites, are made by an art service, which is a part of the ART CLUB. The object of this club is to develop appreciation, stimulate interest, and encourage artistic talent.

From time to time, artists of prominence, fellow pupils, and teachers are invited to speak to the club.

PARLEZ-VOUS FRANÇAIS?

French must be spoken exclusively during meetings of the French Club if one does not wish to be fined. This is the manner in which LE CLUB FRANÇAIS has undertaken to stimulate and promote an interest in the French language.

French plays, recitations, songs, and discussions are part of the programs. This year the Club presented the opera "Rigoletto" in a novel puppet show. The roles were played and sung by members of the Club.

AMONG THE FINEST!

This semester was a successful one for the MARSHALL SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA under the direction of Merle J. Isaac and Ralph C. Lewis. The aim of the Orchestra was to go to the National High School Orchestra Contest in Columbus, Ohio, and the activities of the group were directed with this in mind.

The Parents Association has done much toward the financing of the Orchestra. With the object of raising enough money to be present at the contest in Columbus, the plan of selling charms, and giving concerts at a reasonable admission fee was devised. The SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA also gave concerts in the Lewis J. Bloch Auditorium and one at Austin High School.

The many ensembles and soloists have won much praise, and the Orchestra as a whole has received the highest ratings.

ADVANCED ORCHESTRA

DIRECTORS: Mr. Isaac and Mr. Lewis. FIRST VIOLINS: Chausow, Druck, Eisman, Gordon, Helfgot, Hochman, Holtz, Korn, Kahn, Mazer, Shnitzer, Steinberg, Tabachnick, Tierra, SECOND VIOLINS: Alenik, Bahny, Block, Fritzshall, Gonellen, Giovanetti, Gold, Goldsmith, Greenberg, Kaderman, Karpek, Kozlov, Linn, Milstein, Newman, Olszewski, Schaffer, Sewell, Silverman, B. development of the talent that is so abundant at Marshall.

Under the able direction of Mr. Lewis, with the splendid cooperation of Mr. Isaac and Mr. Lillya, the Intermediate Orchestra during the past semester has developed the possibility of a championship organization. We are sure that in the future as in the past, the able musicians developed in this group will continue to bring home laurels for Marshall.

INTERMEDIATE ORCHESTRA

DIRECTORS: Mr. Isaac and Mr. Lewis. VIOLINS: Azriel, Bendson, Friedman, Goldberg, M. Goodman, R. Goodman, Hart, Horwitz, Kleinerman, Krasny, Lowenthal, Mitchell, Psenicka, Rashnow, Rohrer, Rosner, Rothblatt, Sherman, Singer, Stefanowiez, Tunkel, Weiner, Ziblat. DO, MI, SOL, DO!

The primary purpose of the BOYS' GLEE CLUB is to promote interest in part singing for male voices, but it also tries to develop real gentlemen who stand back of all things which mean a finer and better Marshall.

The club enjoyed an active season through presentation of the operetta "O, Doctor!"; participation in the City Wide Contest held this year at Marshall; the banquet in honor of the mothers of the boys; and completed the season with its annual picnic.

The Glee Club's success is due, to a very great extent, to the very excellent leadership of their director, Miss Ballard.

MARSHALL VS. KELVYN PARK

Whew! Close Call

The Marshall Juniors won the right to play McKinley in the play-off for second place by winning from a tough Kelvyn Park quintet, 26-25.

The first half of the game was all Marshall, but with the opening of the second half, Weeg of Kelvyn Park got hot and made ten points. With forty seconds left to play, Weeg made a long shot from the middle of the floor to put his team ahead, 25-24. Skolnik was then fouled and made a free throw to tie the score. It looked as if, with twenty seconds to play, the game would go into overtime. Then to provide a Horatio Alger ending for the most exciting game of the season, Horwitz was fouled! "Skinny" made the charity toss amid the roars of the crowd to win the game. Skolnik and Leavitt were high-point men, Ralph with ten and Jerry with eight.

MARSHALL VS. AUSTIN

Thriller

The Marshall Ponies, playing on Austin's floor, defeated a fighting Austin quintet, 16-14.

Led by Leavitt and Skolnik, the Juniors got off to a 7-point lead in the first quarter. But a determined Austin five managed to tie it up at 10 all at the half. In the third quarter Coach Wills called in the reserves who held Austin to 4 points. They were in until the last few minutes, when the rested regulars came back to "put the game on ice." But with Austin putting up a fight, the issue was in doubt until the last gun.

Jerry Leavitt was high point man with 6 points, and Ralphie Skolnik was next with 5 points.

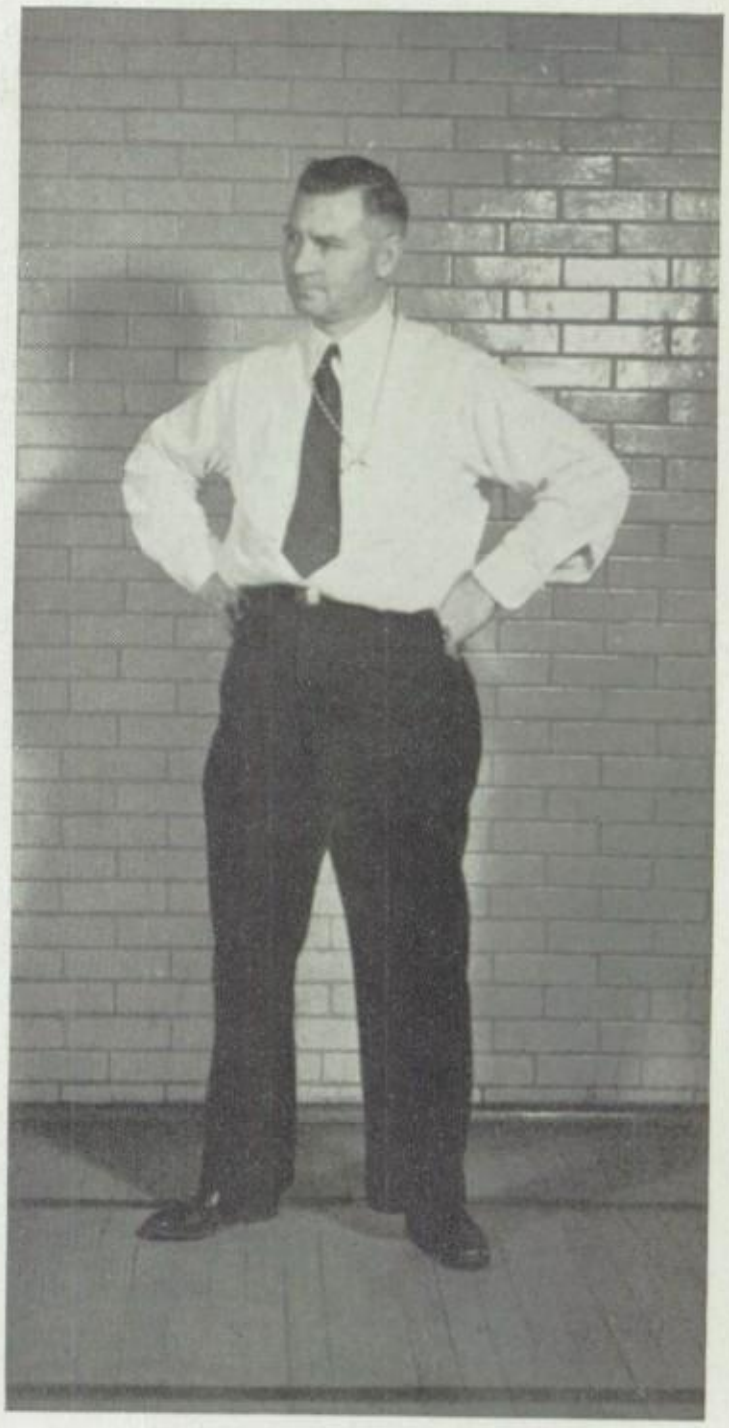
SENIOR BASKETBALL WRITE-UP

Faced with the task of building a senior team to carry out the high standards of the previous Marshall "Heavies," proved to be too much of a task even for our esteemed mentor, Ernest C. Wills. Graduation did what West Section opponents have been unable to do for many seasons—"licked" the Orioles. This year a team had to be built around a group of inexperienced ball players. Consequently, the Orioles had the poorest season in years. Those who showed up well, were: Karps, Meyerwitz, Bero, Pantaz, Lauchiskis, Tabas, Walsh, Millett, and Welkomer. All except Meyerwitz, Karps, and Bero will be back next season.

The Orioles lost the first of their games to a superior Tuley quintet, 24-17. Scoring honors went to Danny Meyerwitz with 8 points. Their next opponent, Foreman, had a tough time in downing a Maroon and Gold five, 27-21. Again it was Meyerwitz who was high point man with 8 points. The seniors can blame this loss on their inability to make free throws. The next to "take" the Orioles was Austin. The game was a one-sided affair, as the score, 41-16, testifies. Then the Orioles dropped a heartbreaker to McKinley, 22-21. The following week Crane, en route to a West Section title, took the Orioles to the tune of 36-32. It was the Senior's fifth consecutive loss. Their next opponent, Wells, who later took the city title, ran away with the Maroon and Golds, 30-15. Then the Marshall Seniors won their first and their last game of the season. The victim, Kelvyn Park put up a great battle, only to lose to a fighting Marshall quintet, 21-19. Scoring honors went to Lauchiskis and Millett, each with 6 points.



COACH ERNEST C. WILLS

STANDING: Lauchiskis, Tabas, Millett, Karps, Meyerwitz. KNEELING: Welkomer, Deutch, Siegel, Pantaz, Richmond, Wolinsky.

MARSHALL VS. CRANE

Avalanche

To show their loss to McKinley the week before was a mistake, the M-G's did an about face and swamped their traditional enemy, Crane, 38-19.

The Orioles put on a display of offensive and defensive basketball that will not soon be forgotten by our enemy. The recipient of some of the defensive play was Moskowitz, the highly touted Crane star, who was held to 3 points. The Juniors literally "ran wild," led by Winer with 6 baskets, and Ginsburg and Skolnik, each with 7 points.

The star of the day was the one and only "Chessy" Ginsburg. He seemed to be all over the floor, at the right place at the right time.

MARSHALL VS. TULEY

Free Throws

The Oriole Ponies, presenting a fast, scoring quintet lost a heart-breaking game to Tuley, 21-19, in the season's opener.

For three quarters the lead see-sawed back and forth. But, in the final minute, disaster! Black, Tuley guard, was fouled and tied the score at 19 all. On the next play Feldman, Tuley high point man, broke the tie with a hook shot. The game ended with Leavitt's futile attempt at the hoop.

It was Tuley's ability and Marshall's inability to make free throws that decided the game. Ralph Skolnick, playing his first game as a regular, was high point man, with ten points. Captain Ginsburg was the defensive backbone of the team.

MARSHALL VS. FOREMAN

On the Up-Path

A speedy Marshall quintet downed a weak Foreman five, 29-20. It was the Orioles' first win in league competition.

Led by Lakovitz, the M-G's ran up a score of 19-10 at the half. In the third quarter, Coach Wills sent in the nucleus of next year's team. They continued to "pour leather through the hoop" to end the unequal struggle.

Winer, a substitute, was high point man with 8 points. "Nudie" Lakovitz was second with 6 points.

MARSHALL VS. WELLS

One More Scalp

The Marshall Ponies put on a last quarter rally of 15 points to defeat the Wells Juniors, 30-19.

The first half was featured by the close guarding of both teams with Wells getting a little bit the better of the argument. But in the last half the Wells defense fell apart and the future West Section runner-ups went to town, scoring 15 points in rapid succession.

Scoring honors for the day went to Ralph Skolnik and Jerry Leavitt with 9 and 8 points respectively.

MARSHALL VS. McKINLEY

Tough Breaks

The Marshall Juniors, playing in an unusually small gym, lost to a McKinley quintet favored by Lady Luck, 23-21.

In the first half our "Ponies" couldn't seem to "get going." But this can be blamed on the size of the gym and the overhanging balconies that prevented side shots. In the second half the Juniors, led by Skolnik, went into the lead and held it until the last forty-five seconds! De Phillips of McKinley took a desperate long shot. As the ball rebounded, Ginsburg and two McKinley men were fighting for it. They all missed, and it dropped into the hands of De Phillips, who was standing under the basket. With no one near him, De Phillips made the basket, cinching the game. The game ended with Captain Ginsburg's free throw.

Skolnik led the offensive with six points. He was closely followed by Winer and Leavitt, each with five.

INTRAMURAL

Bigger and better activities for the boys' gym was the motto of the boys' department this semester. Besides carrying on basketball, volleyball and baseball tournaments, the gym instructors are teaching juniors and seniors the rudiments of golf.

The basketball tournament was carried on successfully with four winning teams receiving gold medals. A team from each year received the medals.

The volleyball tournament has never been held before, but we are sure that under Mr. Ruzicka it will be carried on satisfactorily. The prizes to the winners will be gold medals.

The indoor baseball tournament was better this year than ever. It was run on a straight elimination basis, one loss and finis. Ten medals were awarded to the winning team of each year.

For the second time, the intramural track tournament was held successfully. The gym classes were divided into two groups, juniors under 16 years of age, and seniors over 16. The junior winners are: John Collins, dash; Ralph Greenberg, high jump; Paul Conte, pole climb; Robert Joyce, triple broad jump; Bernard Miller, hop, step, and jump.

The senior winners are: Edward Becker, dash; Ray Schick, high jump; Robert Glick, pole climb; Marshall Golden, triple broad jump; Joseph Lauchiskis, hop, step, and jump. The winners in both classes received gold medals.

Compliments are due to our grand gym instructors. They have done excellent work in making our gym one of the finest in the city. We are sure that next semester the gym department will continue its high standard of work.

BASE BALL

COACH LOUIS WEINTRAUB

CAPT. AL LUZIETTI

A fighting Marshall team that was a constant threat to West Section opponents, was led by Captain Al Luzietti and Coach Louis Weintraub in a most disappointing season.

The team was composed of Charles Goodman at third base, Sol Badelamenti, shortstop, Al Luzietti, catcher, Steve Minale, right field, Bill Bero, pitcher. The substitutes who will be back next season are McNeilly, Walsh, Futris, Ward and Boim.

The team played most of their league games at Humboldt Park. This enabled loyal Marshall supporters to come out and root for their team.

GYM GEMS

Shirley Olsen

This "Dancing Lady" of so many talents is one of Marshall's most esteemed girl athletes. She dives, dances and indulges in all sports available.

Ethyle Simon

In Ethyle we find a real leader. Being captain of her numerous teams since her first year, "Seemoan" has become one of the gym's most valuable daughters.

Mary Ill

Always ready, always steady, that's Mary. Her keen sportsmanship and ability have made her a favorite in the gym and pool.

SHIRLEY OLSEN

GYM GEMS

Nancy Squillo

Marshall's "little hurricane" is "Nance,"
With her around, no one "has a chance,"
She's a laughing, carefree sprite,
Who displays ability, and might!

Georgia Overall

With the graduation of Georgia, Marshall loses a fine athlete. Her speed, accuracy and quick wit have helped many a team in crucial moments.

Frances Saunders

A grand sport, a great player and a swell leader, "Fran" captains her teams to sure victory. An athlete of athletes!

Mabel Perkinson

Willing, ready and able,
A fine athlete is our Mabel,
Ever-alert to a brilliant play,
She plays better every day.

LIFE GUARDS

FIRST ROW: Greene, Star, Davis, Turner, La Salle, Persky, Comparette. SECOND ROW: Mueller, La Vine, Waxman, III, Sushinsky, Olsen, Paglia.

GYM GEMS

Betty Murphy

Betty, a prominent figure in the gym, is a true athlete. A capable player, she is "tops" in all sports.

Louise Novak

She's energetic, capable, an ambitious athlete, outstanding in every game. Her fellow teammates will verify this.

Helen Davis

Tall lanky, full of fight,
On the floor she shows true might,
Swimming, volleyball, all the rest,
When athletes meet, she's the best.

Henrietta Rappaport

As athletic as can be, powerful and muscular is she, energy and lots of personality, describes our dynamic "Henri."

UPON BECOMING BLIND

By Don Patinkin

(Winning Story—Lower Class)

He was blind. There was no question about that. The doctor had rattled off a string of Latin phrases, but still he came back to the first idea, he was blind.

Don had been one out of thousands of pupils at high school, known among his friends but outside of this circle merely another pupil, nothing remarkable about him.

DON PATINKIN

At first he had thought that the light was beginning to dim with the coming night. The print of the book had become blurred and finally a mass of black and white. Then he had only been able to discern objects very faintly. Everything seemed to be taking on the same hue, objects became indiscernible from their surroundings. A feeling of deepest terror had overtaken him, the doctor had once warned him of his eyesight. Gradually everything had begun to take on a dark aspect until all he saw was a mass of darkness! The feeling of fear had over-powered him. With feverish, groping hands he had grasped his eyelids and pulled them upwards!

A thought reverberated in his head. "To see, to see! God, let me see!"

Don's lower lip had begun to tremble. A nausea of fear controlled body and thoughts. He had fallen weakly to his knees mumbling inarticulate sounds, laughing and crying hysterically at the same moment! Sweat had broken out on his face, saliva had drooled from the corners of his mouth!

Mumbling, sobbing, and giggling alternately Don had dragged himself to his bed. Wearily he had lain down trying to relax and collect his thoughts. Conflicting ideas raged back and forth in his inner self. Afraid to open his eyes for fear of not being able to see, he had lain there, his eyes tightly shut. Slowly he had begun to regain his courage. He had breathed slower and relaxed. Don had tried not to think of that impending catastrophe. With the return of his courage he had resolutely tried to open his eyes again. He was in a world of deepest darkness. Terror once again seized him. He couldn't control himself! He screamed and beat his eyes with his fists! He—

Don was blind.

At first he had seemed to be engulfed in a sea of darkness through which he could not penetrate. Don had felt as a swimmer out in the sea, far away from help or any kind of human companionship. Lost and wandering in uncharted gulfs he beats the water violently, then weaker and weaker until he sinks, sinks, sinks . . .

Don was living in a world in which sight is known but unobtainable. He had to accustom himself to a new living. He hated his dependency on others to which he was forced. Hated his helplessness. Hated the shallow consolations of his friends. Hated his detachment from the outside world. Hated! Hated!! HATED!!!

The first few months were the worst. Learning to walk again, having to shorten his customary long strides. Learning to recognize objects by something other than sight. Learning to adapt himself to this new world which he found himself in.

Don settled down. They all do.

His main problem was to find something with which to take up his time. How he regretted his lack of knowledge of music. What a companion an instrument would have been! Reading was no longer possible except by the Braille system which he was conquering slowly but surely. The monotony of the days rasped on his mind until he thought he would go insane just sitting, sitting, sitting . . .

Don thought: "I have to do something. I'm going crazy."

The clacking of a typewriter broke in on his thoughts. He was going to complain irritably when a thought flashed across his mind. He knew how to type, didn't he?

Handicapped as he was, Don rushed to the typewriter. Hurriedly he removed the cover. Stiff, unaccustomed fingers played over the keys. Soon he was able to type with some ease.

He had found himself.

Don began to type out this story:

"He was blind. There was no question about that. The doctor . . ."

SYMPHONY IN STORM

by Beverly F. Hoffenberg

(Winning Poem—Lower Class)

HOFFENBERG

The day is growing dim,
Winds are madly whirling,
They hum a whining hymn
To the trees that are swaying and swirling.
A rhythmic sway
Of trees that pray,
A wind that stings
And sighs and sings,
Sings on and on with an echoing mirth
On God's creative earth.

Melodies change;
A broken crash—
Rays of light—
A revolting flash—
Roars of mockery resound
In a fearful tumultuous sound.
Then—
Clamor ceases;
Mist increases.

All is quiet
Then a tingle,
No more riot
Now a jingle,
A mingle tiny raindrops
Beating on many rooftops.
Rapid beating,
Drops repeating
Faster, faster in a melodious rhyme
Like the mellow accord of a chime.

THE FERRIS WHEEL

By Eli Samet

(Winning Essay—Upper Class)

Years ago when I was still of kindergarten age, my mother said something that made me jump with glee. She was going to take me to the carnival! It was a typical circus day. One filled with popcorn, pink lemonade, peanuts and cotton candy. But it was neither the great amount of "sweets" I had consumed nor the stomach-ache that followed that made this day a memorable one. It was the huge, shining Ferris wheel that attracted me and kept me entranced. I did not know why then. I know why, now . . . Now the Ferris wheel is more than gigantic . . . It has a more significant meaning. Let me explain.

ELI SAMET

You know how people crowd around the Ferris wheel. Suppose we observe one individual in the group. Hurry, we must not lose him.

The endless mob surges forward. It pushes him toward the gates of the Ferris wheel, which beckons and disregards at the same time. He does not want to go in; but he is in. He sees others rushing for seats. In a rather bewildered manner he does likewise.

As the strap is belted around him, he attempts to get off; but with a shock he realizes the wheel is already revolving. It moves very slowly, so slowly that his fear turns to nausea. Gingerly he looks about him at the other passengers. Strangely enough, they appear to be enjoying themselves. "How can they be so happy while taking such risks? It is dangerous, and yet they do not seem to mind."

As he nears the ground, he decides to jump off, but the wheel is too quick, and before he knows it he is on his way upward once more . . . Turning round and round, slowly, round and round. The creaking of the Ferris wheel is driving him mad. In a frenzy he vows that when he is near the bottom he will jump off. Closer and closer he comes to the ground. His hand reaches out to loosen the strap. As it does so, he notices a sudden rush of people toward him. He looks at them and seen that their faces are eager, shining, hopeful. They want his place—so many of them. He sinks back into his seat humanly realizing that he can not give up what so many people desire.

"This must be worthwhile because so many, many people are after it. It is only my fears that have made me think differently."

By this time the wheel has brought him in mid-air again, and, as if a heavenly benediction has at last made his mind wiser and his heart lighter, he smiles and says, "These other men, women, and children are on the same wheel as I am. Some may be school children studying to make their ambitions come true; others may be architects, planning to build up the nation; and still others may be lawyers and doctors, helping to preserve it. They must have their hopes, their dreams, their despairs, and yet they are revolving also. They are content—I will be, too!" . . . And so do we all revolve upon that Ferris wheel. Some hate it, some love it. But no one can avoid it—for this immense Ferris wheel is Life. . .

SONNET

By Ellen Anderson

(Winning Poem—Upper Class)

ELLEN ANDERSON

When first the rays of morning light appear,
  Upon the scarlet roses sparkling lie
Bright drops of dew that shine as soft and clear
  As stars, that twinkle in the midnight sky.
Some say that drewdrops are the tears that fall
  At evening from the eyes of some sad star;
But I do not agree to that at all,
  I've heard a tale much lovelier by far:
At evening, 'fore Apollo goes to rest
  He decks the garden out in jewels gay:
Adorns the rose as suits her beauty best,
  Then drives his chariot homeward till 'tis day . . .
At dawn he gathers up the diamonds bright,
  To re-adorn the roses in the night.

SNOW FLAKES

By Dorothy Bailis

(Second Place Poem—Upper Class)

This morning I jumped from my bed,
Peeked through the window at the head
Of the lighted room,
A shower of crystals wafted down from above,
White, flaky feather, the breast of a dove,
Smoothness of a plume.
